
The Royal Society of New Zealand Canterbury Branch Incorporated

www.canterbury.rsnzbranch.org.nz

Founded in 1862 as the Philosophical Institute of Canterbury

An invitation to join the Canterbury branch of the Royal Society of New Zealand Membership is open to all with an interest in science.

We are an independent regional constituent organisation of the Royal Society of New Zealand that you can join separately from their web site www.royalsociety.org.nz. As a branch member your membership subscription goes towards supporting our regular lecture programme and other activities the branch supports such as science fair prizes.
